Passage of Pacific Armada Through Panama Canal Hastens Completion of Reception to Be Given.

ENTERTAINMENT IS AMPLE

Tos Angeles Will Keep Men Busy Every Moment of Time They Are Ashore—Other Details.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 28.—Plans for keeping the men of the fleet in the coast cities were announced today by a committee of the local hotel associations, headed by George W. Parsons, manager of the Hotel Plaza, and the San Francisco Hotel Association, which has been in session during the past month. The committee has decided to have a series of balls or fêtes during their stay here, and a ball for the returning sailors on the second night of the visit. The place also will be a paradise for the men of the fleet.

Local theaters have arranged programs for every evening. Theaters and movie houses will be open from 10 p.m. to 12 a.m. Los Angeles, Pacific Auditorium, 11th St., 1st floor, will be open during the day, while the night entertainment will be provided by the city's night clubs. The city's night clubs will be open during the day, and a ball for the returning sailors on the second night of the visit. The place also will be a paradise for the men of the fleet.

The reception plans of San Francisco and nearby cities will be completed tomorrow. Addresses are President Wilson and Secretary Daniels to men in the fleet while they are en route, board through the agency of wireless telephones. Special devices are greatly improved the second day of the voyage, being communicated to ships, and men of the fleet will be given appropriate addresses on the returning journey if the places of destination are known are completed. Portland also plans a separate address.

Tucson's reception for the fleet and officers of the fleet will be held in the stadium. Mayor G. C. Bill Dell was delegated to go to San Diego to greet Admiral Bushnell.

Many other cities along the coasting residents will greet the fleet at the entrance to the respective harbors.

Bands will be stationed along the water front. The shore program for the navy men includes a few words display and street dancing.

ADA WILL VOTE SOON ON WATER BOND ISSUE

ADA, Okla., July 28.—The city commissioners of Ada will call an election for an early date, according to reports coming from the city hall, for the purpose of voting on an approximately a half-million dollar bond issue, the proceeds from the sale of which will be used to enlarge and improve the water system for the city. The present system is not large enough to supply the demands of the fast growing city. Ada's water supply is derived from the most desirable in the southwest. It comes from the famous Birds Mill springs, fifteen miles south. For the last ten years the water has pumped itself in. The great body of water leaving the springs has been forced enough to pump enough into the city for the city's needs. The plan now, however, is to let the water come by gravity to within two miles of Ada, and then pump the water into the city tanks from the distance. The springs are almost as highly elevated as the city itself.

Property owners along many of Ada's most desirable residence streets want to begin paying. They would have started some time ago were it not for the fact that the new water system may mean some changes in the sewer system. As soon as the water system is installed, paving will start, and more than a hundred blocks will be paved as rapidly as the material can be put down.

VILLE Followers Get Castle.
EL PASO, Texas, July 28.—Ville followers under Ramon Vega, El Paso, visited the ranch of E. P. Fuller, an American, 12 miles from Ville Ahumada, and drove off 11 horses and a number of cattle. A small federal garrison was stationed at the ranch at the time but made no effort to pursue the Ville band.

The TULSA HERALD, Tulsa, Oklahoma, reported yesterday that a small band of men operating in northern Durango, Mexico, were making little effort to pursue Ville's men in that state and there were only 200 U.S. troops in Durango City, the capital.

GERMANY NEEDS BIG SUPPLY U. S. COTTON

Million Bales Can Be Used Immediately If Means Are Found to Finance Movement of Fleece.

WASHINGTON, July 28.—German spinning mills, with 10,000,000 spindles estimated as still suitable for operation, can consume 1900,000 bales of cotton during the next six months if means are found to finance the movement of the commodity from the United States. It is reported by Edwin W. Thompson, commercial attaché, that the German government has issued a decree forbidding the exportation of the import of foreign and domestic cottons made public tonight.

Mr. Thompson outlined a plan by which German and Dutch traders may be furnished cotton for resale to Germany and allowed to assume a part of the credit risk. Out of 4,967,018 bags of cotton in storage in the United States on June 30, he estimated a very large proportion was classified in the lower grades which are especially suitable for German mills.

At this time the German mills would be ready to take the low grade cotton. Mr. Thompson's report continues, quoting him during the war, they have been operating on what is called "melted fiber and paper" owing to the pressure of the blockade.

"Cotton experts are agreed that cotton in public store in the United States is nearly all of grades below those most desired by domestic mills."

Noting that the problem for the American producers and holders of cotton was to find a way to offer baled assortments of cotton to the German spinners and at the same time be assured for the value of their property, Mr. Thompson said that warehouses and exchange facilities in Rotterdam, Holland, now were available for handling such trade.

Several strong-leading companies in Rotterdam are in a position to handle and finance cotton into Germany as fast as they can consume it, he said. "Matters can be so arranged with them that American bankers can finance the cotton in any amount into safe warehouses in Holland and Belgium, so account their own credits, for delivery to German spinners in July to suit their weekly or monthly requirements."

"Owing to great labor trouble at the moment, it would be hard to start up spinning at full capacity, even if the cotton were on the spot, but it is estimated that within a few months after cotton begins to move the mills could use 1000 bales a month."

Danish traders are also willing Mr. Thompson reported, to assume handling cotton into Russia, and would also stand willing to loan in supplying Germany.

Keeping trucks out of the shop

THE efficiency of a truck depends on the aggregate work it does. So we leave nothing undone to keep your Pierce-Arrow trucks working.

We build them as carefully as fine machines must be built if they are to last—of right design and the best materials. We test them thoroughly before we sell them.

Our interest doesn't stop there. We teach your men to handle them and we inspect them monthly to prevent abuse or neglect. All of our experience is at your disposal.

This care keeps Pierce-Arrows out of the shop and on the job—rolling up mileage, piling up earnings.

That is why Pierce-Arrows are the cheapest trucks to buy—why none has worn out in 8 years.
